

Frank Koeck

Chief Operations Officer

A degreed Mechanical Engineer from the University of British Columbia and licensed Professional Engineer with over 30 years of Subsea and Surface Oil & Gas equipment design and manufacturing experience, from Research and Development, Applications Engineering, Product Development, Offshore Installations, and Systems Engineering. Frank has successfully built a startup oilfield manufacturing business into an industry leader as General Manager. Active promoter and Member of the Engineering Advisory Board at the University of Houston, with a focus on building future talent for the energy sector. Multi-lingual, with extensive international experience. An avid outdoorsman, Frank is passionate about leading the industry into a zero-emissions future.