Conditional Admissions

- Students are sometimes admitted conditionally for one or more of the following reasons:
  - Official GRE/TOEFL scores not submitted/not acceptable/not taken
  - GPA for Undergraduate degree or Last 60 hours below 3.0
- Official test scores must be provided during the first semester of enrollment. Otherwise, a stop will be placed on future enrollment. Conditionally admitted students are required to complete the first 12 graduate hours at UH with 3.0/4.0 average.
- If you are a full-time student, conditional admission must be changed to unconditional admission by no later than the end of your first year of enrollment. If you are a part-time student, conditional admission must be changed to unconditional admission at the completion of the first 12 hours of graduate credit.
- Contact your departmental Graduate Advisor[7] to change the conditional admission status to unconditional admission status upon completing all conditional admission requirements during the time period.
- The student's major department will place an enrollment stop on a student who has not met admissions requirements or other enrollment requirements within the time period. Not meeting the conditions of your admission could lead to termination from the graduate program.
- If leveling courses are required for admission, then the leveling courses must be completed prior to taking graduate courses. Leveling courses must be completed with a minimum grade of B. Leveling courses cannot be counted as graduate credit toward your degree.

Deferring A?dmission

- If you are approved for graduate admission for a given semester and do not enroll, you must contact your departmental Graduate Advisor[7] in order to update your application. If you do not enroll for one year after your initial approval for admissions, then you must re-apply with a new application, new application fee, new transcripts, and new letters of recommendation. Inactive files of admitted, but never enrolled, students are kept for only one year before being discarded.
